DECISION AND ORDER

On March 1, 1985, the Public Employee Relations Board (Board) certified the District of Columbia Doctors' Council (DCDC) as exclusive representative for medical officers at the District of Columbia General Hospital (Employer) for compensation and non-compensation bargaining. On June 20, 1985, the District of Columbia Office of Labor Relations and Collective Bargaining (OLRCB) on behalf of the Employer filed a Petition for Clarification of the bargaining unit.

The OLRCB contends that the hearings held prior to the certification dealt only with the appropriateness and scope of a non-compensation bargaining unit. The OLRCB requests that the Board rescind or modify its certification of the bargaining unit in PERB Case No. 83-R-11.

On July 1, 1985, the DCDC filed its response requesting that the Clarification Petition be dismissed.

The issue before the Board is whether there is sufficient basis to rescind or modify the certification of a unit of medical officers at D.C. General Hospital.

Based on its review of the record in PERB Case No. 83-R-11, the Board finds that DCDC requested certification for compensation and non-compensation bargaining. Accordingly, the Board finds no basis to rescind or modify the certification.

O R D E R

IT IS ORDERED THAT:

The Petition for Clarification is hereby dismissed.
